Toowoomba
Acting Troupe
Scene 23

Sydney and Mel Canberra, and their kids, Tessa and Teddie, had just finished starring in another
big movie.

“Whew!” said Sydney.
“Making movies is fun,
but it’s hard work.
I need a vacation.”

“Me, too,” said Mel.

“Me, three!”
shouted Teddie, who was learning to count.

The Canberras decided they needed some rest and relaxation.

“Vacation, here we come!”
Tessa shouted happily, as the family packed their suitcases.
They were going to a town
named Honeysuckle Hollow.

“Wouldn’t it be nice if
no one there knows we’re movie stars?” Mel asked.

They wanted to be a regular family on a relaxing vacation.

They didn't want anyone to make a big fuss over them just because they are the famous Toowoomba Acting Troupe.

Tessa had a plan. “Let’s wear these disguises.” She gave her mom, dad and brother hats, sunglasses and wigs from her dress-up box.

Soon they were flying in a plane toward Honeysuckle Hollow.

The disguises worked.
Nobody recognized them,
including Suds Tidyshine,
who sat next to the Canberras on the airplane.

“I know everyone in town,”
Suds said. “We’ve never met,
so I guess you’re visiting.”

“That’s right,” said Sydney.

“The best vacations include swimming in Honeysuckle Hollow Pond,” Suds told his new friends. “May I bring you there later today?”

The koalas thought that was a grand idea!

“We can relax on another
day,” Mel told her family
on the way to the Honeysuckle Inn.

That afternoon, as they swam with Suds and their other new woodland friends, Teddie lost his sunglasses in the pond.

They had fun diving to look for the glasses and splashing around.

“It wouldn’t be a Honeysuckle Hollow
vacation without a bike
tour,” Amelia Hoppingood
told the Canberras.
“Would you like to go
on one tomorrow?”

A bike tour! The koala family thought that sounded like more fun than relaxing.

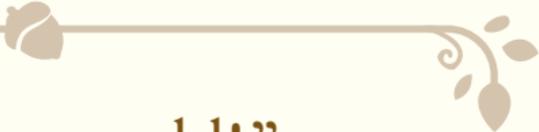

And it was! They had a great time biking. Everyone laughed when Mel's and Tessa's wigs and hats flew off while they were zooming down a hill.

The next morning, Oliver Bushytail told the Canberras that no vacation is complete without an apple pie-baking lesson at the Tickle-Your-Tastebuds Bakery.

“Would you like to learn?”
he asked.

“Yes, we would!”
the Canberras said.

It was a delicious
and messy lesson.

“There might be more flour
on me than in the pie crusts!”
Sydney joked, as he removed his hat and blew flour off it.

By now, the Canberras were
wearing no sunglasses,
no wigs and no hats.

“We wondered if you
would ever take off all
those disguises,”
said Tiny Waterwaggle.

The Canberras were surprised.

“You’ve known who we are all along?” Teddie asked.

“Of course,” said Suds Tidyshine. “It doesn’t matter to us. We like you just the way you are.”

The Canberras never did find time for relaxing on their vacation. But that was okay with them.

They found friendship
instead.
